

MEETING 2328, 15 DECEMBER

SPEAKER DAVE BELL

Review Bill Marles

Dave shared a fascinating insight into his life, initially as a professional award winning garden designer, but now author.

In the mid-2000's, Dave had a life changing experience with a freak accident on a drive down to the south coast to go surfing with his mate ... an incident that resulted in powerlines almost slicing his vehicle in half (not to mention electrocuting him) kind of changed his perspective on living each day to the fullest.

With his good friend and professional photographer James Morcom, Dave launched himself into a career changing project over a period of four years to publish an inspirational and often humorous coffee table book.

'The Gardener's Guide to Growing Money Trees'

Dave and James combined to choose a set of gorgeous flora and fauna photos – unique shots rarely seen before – chance photos of split seconds in time.

Photos from around Adelaide, South Australia and Europe are matched to a set of inspirational messages to challenge the reader's mind, lifestyle, professional career and family time.

Dave's intention is to make readers take stock of their personal situation and consider their life paths from a different perspective. Every ounce of his personality, passion for life and desire to help others is evident as you look through.

Although the title may have you thinking the book will tell you how to make money – that's not quite the case. Its purpose is specifically to have each individual reader reevaluate their personal situation with a view to making better and more inspired decisions.

This beautifully presented, premiere quality book makes a fantastic Corporate gift, a present for friends, or simply something to inspire YOU.

Every aspect of the book oozes quality, from the paper it's printed on, to the ghosted background images, watermarks over images and the clever use of varnishes to highlight key images.

Please do think laterally about people you value who would be really chuffed to receive a publication of this quality. You'll soon benefit from the look of awe on your recipient's faces as they leaf through the pages!

The book retails for an amazingly low $39.95 direct from Dave and we're pretty sure if you smile nicely at Dave, he'll happily personally autograph your copies.

You can learn more, including how to purchase and have your book(s) delivered directly to you, by viewing Dave Bell's website www.davebell.com.au or contacting him direct right now on 0407 207 420 or email info@davebell.com.au

Geoff,
Henry and Ian.

Left: Speaker
Dave Bell.

Right: What are you saying David?

Pages from 'The Gardener's
Guide to Growing Money Trees'

